The Washington Merry-Go-Round

THE WASHINGTON POST Wednesday, an. 10, 1962 F 11

McCone-Kaiser Relations Recalled

By Drew Pearson

One of the first problems facing the Senate Armed Services, Committee will be to review the record laid down by its late, muchloved senior Republican, Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, regard-ing President Kennedy's new chief of Central Intelligence.

The new CIA Pearson chief, John A. McCone, was appointed by Mr. Kennedy just a few days after Congress adjourned last September and it is now up to the Senate Armed Services Committee to confirm him.

If Sen. Bridges' colleagues turn to their own subcommittee hearings of June 2, 1953, and thereafter, they will find some amazing testimony by and about the new CIA chief.

Amazing as it is, the testimony is not quite complete, because later testimony by Mc-Cone before the Joint Atomic Energy Committee, July 2, 1958, shows that he may have been guilty of a conflict of interest when as Under Secretary of the Air Force he awarded a Flying Boxcar contract to the Kaiser-Frazer Company for three times the price the car. Government was paying to the Fairchild Corporation.

O'Konski of Wisconsin, plane as built by Fairchild in this luncheon, Senate hearings Keiser.

charged his fellow Republican, Hagerstown, Md. The Air showed that the plan to build Copyright, 1962, Bell Syndicate, Inc.

ment. However, he did not suppliers" only after the competitor. Nine days owned 4200 shares of Kaiser gotiated. Frazer common stock. He also had a hard time putting a good light on the highly unusual chain of facts which Sen. Bridges placed before the Senthe Flying Boxcar contract.

At that time, 1950, Henry J. Kaiser's attempt to rival other auto manufacturers with the "Henry J" small-sized car and other Kaiser-Frazer makes had been a flop. He had a heavy overhead, a factory at Willow down, and a large supply of machinery on hand.

According to the testimony unearthed by Sen. Bridges, Kaiser's close associate with whom he had been engaged in tract. West Coast shipbuilding, John A. McCone, got him off the to his old shipbuilding partnerquickie contract to manufac-on leave of absence from his ever, took part of the contract Run plant was discussed. position as president of the away from Fairchild, despite Bechtel-McCone Corp. . . be-the higher cost. McCone, try-comes Under Secretary of the Air Force and arranges a nice Bridges, said that the Defense Air Force and arranges a nice Bridges, said that the Defense fat gift for Kaiser, and that is Department wanted to develop how Kaiser manages to con-secondary suppliers. He had the C-119 which Fairchild had tinue to suck defense dollars to admit under cross-examina- developed and was then prowhile our boys in Korea die tion, however, that Secretary of Defense Marshall had is contract Fairchild was resued the directive on "second quired to give the data to a suppliers" only of the competitor.

the Air Force not $688,365 as Kaiser. No facilities or cost estimated, but $1,339,140 per studies had been made, and boxcar. It even charged up to the Air Force had no idea the Air Force $78,000 for what Kaiser was going to liquor, food, and the cost of charge Uncle Sam for being mittee as to how Kaiser got a dedication party for its first bailed out at Willow Run. C-119—though this was caught and disallowed by Air Force to ask McCone: auditors.

Faster Than Fast

gotiations began on Dec. 5. 1950, when Kaiser, hard-Run, Mich., which was closing pressed from his unsuccessful Materiel Command on Dec. 19, auto venture, applied to the four days later, what would Reconstruction Finance Cor- you say? poration for a $25 million loan. He was told he could get it though apparently fast, was if he had a Government con-proper under the sense of his old shipbuilding partner"It is even faster than fast, hook. McCone produced a ship, he had lunch with Mc is it not?" asked Bridges. Cone, then Under Secretary of ture the C-119 or Flying Box- the Air Force in charge of pro- agreed McCone. curement. Son Edgar Kaiser overnment was paying to the The cost per plane as built also was present together with airchild Corporation.

Later that same day, thanks erating," replied McCone.

The cost per plane as built also was present together with ever, McCone would not admit by Kaiser was to be $688,365, Lt. Gen. K. B. Wolfe, deputy that he had any continuing One Republican, Rep. Alvin as compared with $260,000 per chief of staff for materiel. At

McCone, with being "merely Force, under McCone, how-C-119s in the Kaiser Willow-

On Dec. 6, one day later, the demanded engineering data on

Nine days later, Dec. 15, the decision was reached to award In the end Kaiser charged the Flying Boxcar contract to

All this caused Sen. Bridges

"If the Air Force's records should indicate that the decision to award the contract for The amazing, high-speed ne-the C-119 to Kaiser-Frazer was reached on Dec. 15 and that the proposals were delivered by Kaiser-Frazer to the Air

"I would say that the action, emergency that we were op-

"It is pretty fast, you bet,"

In all the testimony, how-